

What is Trophy Wife Strain?

What is Trophy Wife strain? This strain is known for its relaxing, long-lasting high. The super soothing effect of Trophy Wife stimulates both the body and mind. After the first toke, users can experience intense relaxation and relief from pains and aches. This strain is available from West Coast Supply. It has an average CBD and trichome content of around 22%. Here are some common symptoms of a Trophy Wife.

The smell and taste of Trophy Wife are both savory and sweet, with a smooth finish. The flavor is earthy with a lingering gas-like aftertaste. Trophy Wife is an Indica variety that gives users a sedative effect and has a pleasant, hazy, relaxing effect. It is commonly used for anxiety and pain relief. You can find it in various strains for these purposes, including Amnesia Haze and Rocket Fuel.

Trophy Wife hemp strain contains about 20 percent CBD and 50% THC. While these high CBD hemp strains are not for high-intention users, they provide medicinal benefits. Its CBD content can help with epilepsy, inflammation, and nausea. Those who suffer from these conditions should seek out Trophy Wife as a way to relieve the symptoms and get through their day. So, what is Trophy Wife?

It has a low THC content, making it ideal for those not looking for a potent high. It is also easy to grow indoors and outdoors and does not produce the pungent smell associated with White Widow. White Widow, on the other hand, requires high-end ventilation systems. If you want to grow marijuana indoors, trophy wife is the strain for you. The high CBD content helps to cure muscle pain.

Trophy Wife is a robust CBD hybrid with an average THC/CBD ratio of 20:1. This strain is perfect for those who want a potent strain that will curb physical ailments without creating psychoactive effects. It contains 25% THC and 1% CBD and has piney, citrus, and peppery aromas. It has a piney smell and flavor, which is why Trophy Wife is famous.

This auto-flowering cannabis strain will produce high yields and a relaxed state. Trophy Wife will grow up to six feet tall when grown indoors and yield about twelve ounces per plant. Growing Trophy Wife is easy and works best in warm, sunny climates. However, it can also be grown outdoors, and its short flowering time will ensure that you have plenty of marijuana for the winter. The harvest season lasts from October to November.